DEPARTMENT ON AGING – RESOLUTIONS RECOGNIZING OUTSTANDING SENIOR SUPPORTERS FOR 2013

Ms. Bell stated that there are 18 individuals and groups that are being recognized as outstanding senior supporters this year and the balance are being recognized for different contributions, all of which are dedicated to senior citizens. Ms. Bell explained that Roberta Barringer, Helen Glivar and Linda McFarland each volunteer at a different senior center and do anything that we need them to; they are awesome. Gene Schultz is our buyer at the Farm Market on Mondays every other week, bringing the best priced produce back which is then delivered to the home bound seniors that request it. Ms. Bell noted that any extra produce is put out for any senior to take at the senior centers. Bainbridge Women's Group is a quiet, loyal group of supporters that do things at the Bainbridge Senior Center, but also contribute to our Transportation and Home Delivered Meal programs. Burton Health Care sponsors coffee and donuts at the senior golf outings and offers additional support when needed. Chardon United Methodist Church covers the cost of all holiday meals on Thanksgiving and Christmas along with allowing us to host the annual Maple Festival day. Geauga County Recorder's Office and Probate Court's "Good Deeds" program is an awesome program that saves seniors headaches and concerns by correcting a problem before it becomes a problem. Geauga County Auditor's Office, which has been recognized before but this year is being recognized for the letter that was sent out about the changes coming to the Homestead Program this year. Geauga Habitat for Humanity helps us if needed through the Re-Store when a senior is being moved to a facility and are in need of furniture items. The Original Middlefield Cheese Company has put together great boxed lunches for us for programs at a great price, which are available to everyone. St. Anselm's Elementary School volunteers once a month at the West Geauga senior center by grade, so either they have a story read to them by a senior, read books to seniors, have discussions on what it means to be a friend offering each other perspective, and learn what it means to age and not just another older person. St. Mary's Elementary School participants are worker bees, they come to the Chardon senior center and help with the senior newsletters along with cleaning all the bags that are used to deliver meals. Whitehouse Chocolates works great with us and supports different events. These are not the only people who care about seniors, but the Department on Aging tries to only recognize an individual or group once.
